

Healthcare:

Alcohol Screening and Brief Intervention Training

Patient Christy Johnson needs a check-up after a minor car accident. Review and apply best practices for screening and brief intervention with a simulated patient who may have no risk, some risk, or high risk for problems associated with alcohol use.

Journal of the American Board for Family Medicine:

“[This] technology... is the first virtual reality simulation to demonstrate an increase in the alcohol screening and brief intervention skills of health care professionals.”

Funding provided by:

Prescription Drug and Pain Management Training

Tom Kramer wants a refill on the opioid medication he uses to manage his chronic pain. Practice three essential conversations for safe and effective prescribing: screening for risky behaviors, establishing prescription agreements, and discontinuing opioid use.

Profiled in The New York Times

“A Game to Help Doctors Ask Tough Questions”

Funding provided by:

Commercial Off-the-Shelf Systems

Motivational Interviewing Training

Jack Grant's cocaine use is affecting his life, but he's not sure he wants to stop using. Learn and practice MI techniques like establishing a partnership, providing support, using reflections, eliciting client perspective, evoking change talk and more.

"Feedback from this system helped learners identify opportunities for further learning. Interacting with the character was easy." - User

Funding provided by:

Talking to Patients About Health Risk Behaviors

Engaging with Adolescent Patients About Marijuana Use

When substance use concerns arise in primary care visits, Motivational Interviewing can be an effective way to steer a patient towards change in just a few minutes. Practice using the spirit of MI to keep patients engaged and uncover their motivations to change.

"Helpful for my learning process... The course encouraged me to think deliberately about what I might say and was fun, too!" - Five-star review on Train.org

Funding provided by:

College Alcohol Intervention Training Suite

Take on the role of a peer mentor as you learn about the risks of alcohol abuse, then speak to students Alison, Blaine, and Skye to promote a safe, supportive, and alcohol-free environment on campus. Three conversations and three interactive educational mini-games about alcohol.

“This product will allow me to make better decisions when interacting with residents... It will improve relationships and quality of work, and make sure campuses are safe.” - Resident Assistant User

Funding provided by:

Job Interview Training

Wondersmart is hiring, and interviewer Molly Porter is looking for the best candidates. Learn what questions to expect and how to present yourself effectively, building skills and confidence through realistic, personalized interviews.

In independent research, users were 9 times more likely to have a job offer in six months than peers without the training.

Journal of Autism and Developmental Disorders:

“[Job Interview Training] is an efficacious and highly accessible strategy for improving job interview skills among individuals with ASD (Autism Spectrum Disorder).”

Funding provided by:

Law Enforcement/Security:

Hands-On Interview & Interrogation Training (HIITS)

Sensitive files have gone missing, and Jennifer Lerner is a prime suspect. Learn and practice identifying investigative interview techniques, identifying indicators of deception, determining subject veracity, and obtaining an admissible confession.

Finalist: International Serious Games Showcase & Challenge

Profiled on:

LAW and ORDER

OFFICER.com

Corporate:

Coaching for Improved Performance

Brooke Lerner is a valuable employee, but needs coaching through some problem behaviors. Learn and practice the Coach 5-7 Model to set a supportive, constructive tone and help an underperforming employee reach her potential.

"[Coaching for Improved Performance] may be the first technology application to provide a more effective skill practice experience than traditional role-play. This robust game-engine based experience... eliminates the failure points associated with traditional, classroom-based role play."- David Milliken, Managing Partner, Blueline Simulations

Commercial Off-the-Shelf Systems

Supportive Selling with Dan Williams

Dan Williams is looking to buy; do you have what it takes to close the deal? Put your talents to the test in simulated sales calls with the virtual buyer Dan Williams. Sharpen your skills with repeated practice in calls that never play the same way twice. Learn from mistakes in a low-stress virtual environment. Play for achievements and simulated commission in a gamified simulation with a global leaderboard!

Get the book Supportive Selling on Amazon.

"Succinct, easy-to-understand ideas that will help sales professionals move their customers from no to yes." - Gary Rauchfuss, NARA

Under Development:

Childhood Obesity Prevention

Funding provided by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Cognitive Behavioral Therapy

Funding provided by the National Institute of Health

Custom Simulations of Any Size, On Any Topic!

For more information, or to start your free evaluation of any SIMmersion training system, contact Tom Beato, Senior VP for Business Development:

Tom.beato@simmersion.com, (w) 443.283.2580 (m) 254.630.8611

Ben Allen-Kingsland, Business Development Director, Health & Corporate Programs:

ben@simmersion.com, (w) 443.283.2563 (m) 301.275.3740